ROTARY "FLY-IN" BUILDING PERMITS

Drayton Valley Rotarians were host to a "fly-in" of four planes carrying fourteen visiting Rotarians on Wednesday, June 14th. The visiting Rotarians arrived at the Mobil Airstrip at about 8 o'clock and were guests at the regular weekly Rotary dinner meeting in the Club Cafe.

The Drayton Valley town band under the very capable leadership of Bandmaster Karl Wahl met the visitors as they arrived at the airport, and were later also guests at the Rotary dinner.

The Rotarians who made the flight to Drayton Valley were Jim Greer, of Edmonton Club; Ed Spratlin, Edmonton Club; Don Hamilton, West Edmonton Club; Mickey Collins, Edmonton Club; Derek Splitz, West Edmonton Club; Ian Roger, West Edmonton Club; Art O'Hanlon, South Edmonton Club; Tom Douglas, South Edmonton Club; Howard Watson, who is president of the South Edmonton Club; Tubby Bateman, South Edmonton; Scotty McInosh, South Edmonton; Ron Gensham, Edmonton Club; Floyd Moore, president of the West Edmonton Club; and Charles Hesel, South Edmonton.

First speaker for the evening was Don Hamilton, who spoke on "Flight of the Present". He told of the mighty commercial jet.

In the pitching duel, Legions journeyed to Thonby on Sunday and has no trouble disposing of the Canucks to the tune of 11 - 3. Thonby never recovered after the Drayton Valley boys bagged six big runs in the first inning. Redding again was on the mound for the winners. Next game takes place on June 21st at Newon.

The tie occurred last Wednesday as the Buffaloes came from behind in the sixth inning and sent their fans home satisfied with a 4 - 4 deadlock. Jerry Redding and Lesson Ruff came out even.

Don't forget the big ball tournament here July 7th and 8th. Watch this column for further announcements.

By Ken Machan.

Drayton Valley Rotarians met the Edmonton Rotarians at the Mobil airstrip when the visiting clubs flew in for the dinner meeting on June 14th. Planes in the air of four were two Canadas and two Apaches, each seating four persons. The Canadas are single motored and the Apaches are twin motored.

The planes made a very pretty sight as they came in from the north, over the ridge of trees, for very smooth landings on the airstrip.

Gordon Kynoch was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1889. His parents moved to the city of Edinburgh when he was six years old, where he remained until he emigrated to Canada in 1904, at the age of 19. He came first to Winnipeg, and worked at various places in Manitoba for a few years, until he joined the Winnipeg Police Force and served with them for three years, until 1910, when he decided to come farther west and came to Edmonton. For a couple of years he worked on a railroad, north of Edmonton. In 1915 he came to this area, where he took up a homestead, on which he still lives. During the winter, for the next 25 years he worked in the coal mines in Evansburg to help grub the lumbermen work on the homestead.

Mr. Kynoch worked on the survey for the dam, before the first World War, in 1913 and 1914. He also worked on the survey for the railroad, which, it was expected, would be built in between from Ennville. The railroad survey started at Brownhill Flats, on the Saskatchewan River, near the proposed site of the powerhouse; it went west of Drayton Valley a couple of miles, through what is now the Harris farm. It then turned a little east and south to a spot just north of Rocky Rapids, where the Mr. McCallagh farm is now located, after which it went straight north to Ennville. The railroad survey had been completed, with lines on and stakes driven before the war conditions called all the engineers into the army and the group that went putting in the dam, dropped the project until after the war, and as it turned out, it was dropped permanently, with the final building up of this area coming, not as a result of the dam and powerhouse here but as the result of the discovery of oil some forty years later. Mr. Kynoch said that Mr. Roy Piers was sawing lumber at that time at a point near the damsite for the construction of the dam; but when the project was dropped the lumber was rafted down the river a few miles from Ennville. The railroad survey

PUBLIC NOTICE
THE TOWN OF DRAYTON VALLEY
Sidewalk Construction

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that under the authority of Section 396 of The Town and Village Act, being chapter 338 of R.S.A., 1967, and amendments thereto, that the Council of The Town of Drayton Valley, having received a petition from a portion of the ratepayers effected, does hereby advertise the proposal to construct sidewalks as shown below:

Item	On	From	To	Length	Assessable Frontage	Flankage	Cost
1.	56th Ave.	48 st.	48A St.	500.	500.07	nil	1555.00
2.	48th Ave.	55 Ave.	54 Ave.	555.00	nil	227.78	804.00

The cost of the project will be charged against the properties abutting and shall be undertaken as local improvements. The special assessment will be payable as either a prepayment or over a period of ten years.

Unless the majority of the owners of the lands that may be assessed, representing at least half of the value as assessed, petition the Council again within two weeks after the last publication of this notice, the local improvements may be undertaken and the cost thereof assessed by the system referred to in the notice.

If no objections are received the Council will proceed with this project at its discretion but within two years. Final reading of the By-Law authorizing this project will be given at a special meeting not later than the 10th, August 1981, providing there is no objection to it.

ten years later and the same as he lived in the U.S., ever since. As he is known by his other name, Mr. Kynoch, Canada as a whole were settled by men and women such as Mr. and Mrs. Kynoch and this who "came later", whether born here, or coming in by way of emigration, owe them debt of gratitude which can never be fully repaid.

which cost 5 1/2 million dollars to build, with a winged length of a football field. Mr. Hamilton used comparative figures on the cost of building and equipping the big list, stating it would amount to the same cost as a whole complete new community - complete with all services such as streets, water and sewer, etc.

Following the talk on "Flight of the President" Mr. Charles Hink spoke on "Flight of the Future". The second speaker particularly stressed the social and economic effects that flight would eventually have upon the peoples of the world.

One of the visitors, Mr. Bateman had just returned from Tokyo, Japan, where he had attended the International Rotary Conference as a delegate. After dinner Mr. Bateman gave some very interesting reports on general conditions in Tokyo. He said that their conference building held twenty thousand people, and the new crown went to an adjoining building where they watched the proceedings by television. He told of the unbelievably crowded living conditions in Hong Kong where families of five or six were often living in five or six rooms and felt that they were fortunate to have a place to live at all.

MP REPORTS ON COYNE ISSUE

We face at all times, senior civil servants who want to continue to run the country even though the policies have not been endorsed by the people.

There was the pension question unknown to the Government. The Government of the Bank's pension had been increased from $12,000 yearly to $26,000 yearly, as Donald Fleming said, the cost of a martyr will be hard to wear with a pension for life of $25,000 yearly. This has not been accepted by the Government and in my way of thinking, $12,000 yearly pension is more than enough and should not be increased. This is the view of the Government.

Wife Preservers

Mr. Hornor (JASPER EDSON): Mr. Chairman, perhaps the committee will adjudge me for a few moments during which I wish to speak in regard to the estimates of the Department of Forestry. I should find of all like to congratulate the minister on his appointment as the first minister of the Department of Forestry. I suggest that he has a mighty big job on his hands to some extent occasioned by a difficulty in respect to federal-provincial co-operation.

We have heard a great deal this afternoon from the hon. member for Banff about provincial rights. I suggest to him that, first and foremost, each time a province accepts a right it must also accept a responsibility. My remarks this afternoon will have reference to that subject.

In Alberta at this moment the forest areas are suffering from the most serious forest fire situation which has existed for some time. There are over 100,000 acres of forest land either burning, or burnt off. There have been 397 fires in the Edmonton area alone, with 30,000 acres of forest land burnt off or now burning. This is a very serious situation. I asked the Minister of National Defence on Tuesday last whether he had received such a request for the assistance of the armed service. His reply was that he had not received such a request. I suggest this is the type of problem in regard to which there must exist federal-provincial co-operation. It appears that because of an unusual pride on the part of some in regard to provincial rights the people of northwestern Alberta are facing a serious handicap which they should not have to face. At this moment in all the towns of that area other industries are suffering serious hardships because of the fact that all available manpower is out on the fire lines. It seems reasonable to me to suggest that a co-ordinating council at the federal level should be established to co-ordinate fire fighting activities in all provinces of Canada, so as to make available all the firefighting equipment possible, and to establish a system to facilitate the successful use of air force and army personnel to fight these very serious outbreaks of fires which are now taking place.

I should like to point out that there appears to be some slight particularity in respect of Alberta (Cont'. on page 10, Col. 1)

NEW WAGE REGULATIONS

Just male and female employees in Alberta now come under the same 88 cent hourly minimum wage in communities of more than 5,000 population, according to order of the Board of Industrial Relations issued under a recent amendment to the Alberta Labour Act.

The new regulations, varying minimum wages for workers in three age groups and resident in towns of over and under 5,000 population.

In communities with populations exceeding 5,000, the maximum work week has been shortened to 44 hours. Prior to this change the 44-hour week applied only to Alberta's four major cities. Hourly wages in the over 5,000 population localities have been set at 88 cents for employees of either sex under 18 years of age, 78 cents for workers over 18 years but not 19, and 88 cents for all employees over the age of 19.

Hourly minimum wages in centres of less than 5,000 population are set at 78 cents per hour in all categories.

Weekly minimum wages in the larger communities for male and female workers have been established by the Board at $36 for workers under 18 years, $30, for those between 18 and 19 years and $34 for employees over the age of 19 years.

The weekly minimum wage is $4.00 per week less in all towns and villages with less than 5,000 population.

In the case of a worker receiving board and lodging as part payment of his wages, a maximum of $6.00 weekly may be deducted from the legal minimum wage for seven days lodging and 21 meals. This amount is the same in all areas of the province.

The new orders of the Board of Industrial Relations replace the former minimum wage regulations in which separate schedules were drawn up for female and male workers.

The Lions club directors sent the secretary to dicker with a local citizen for a vacant lot on which they planned to build a clubhouse. "You can go as high as $10,000," they said, "but don't come back without that property."

In a few days the secretary reported back. "I got it for $10,000," he said, "but now we're in trouble."

"Impossible," said the club president. "If we have the property, why are we in trouble?"

"Well," sighed the secretary, "that nightclub owner $10 down."

TIMELY WEED CONTROL

The importance of proper timing in the use of chemical herbicides is too often overlooked by many farmers. They take great care to seed at the right time, wash at the right time and combine when the crop is in the proper condition. Many do not seem to realize, however, that a delay of five to ten days in spraying a crop may mean the difference between a considerable increase in yield and no increase at all.

Experiments carried out at the University of Manitoba show that weeds exert their full competitive effect early in life of the crop plant. In other words late spraying may be quite effective in killing weeds but the competition of the weeds during the early stages of crop growth has already had its full effect in reducing crop yields.

Weeds vary greatly in their susceptibility to 2,4-D or MCP. Wild mustard and spring germinant and Stinkweed, when in the early growth stage, can be killed with very low rates of these chemicals. Other common weeds are more difficult to control. Wild buckwheat, the Smartweed and Hemp Nettle, for example, are only susceptible to treatment during their early growth stages. Delaying treatment on such weeds often means a waste of chemical and reduced yields because of weed competition. Timeliness in spraying these weeds is vital.

The amount of chemical to use on various weeds under different growth conditions deserves thorough consideration. While an easy-to-kill weed may predominate in a field there are usually several species present. The effect of weed control, sufficient chemical must be applied to control all the susceptible weeds not just the easy-to-control species. Serious consideration should also be given to growth conditions and stage growth of the weeds. Young weeds growing rapidly are much easier to kill than the same weeds growing under dry or cool conditions or at a more advanced stage of growth. For full information on chemical weed control, write or call at this office for a copy of the booklet "Weed Control with Chemicals."

BUTTER FAT TESTS

Butterfat tests often vary considerably, to the consternation of the dairymen. What causes this to go up or down so rapidly?

A number of reasons could be responsible for a lower test. Arrival of spring weather by excitement, by fear, rough treatment, hurrying the cows, and by poor physical conditions of the cow - any one could be a contributing factor. Tests are usually lowest in the middle of the lactation period. The test may be 1 per cent higher, or even more, towards the end and then at the peak of the lactation period.

If something keeps a cow from lactating her milk will decrease completely, the yield of milk is low and the fat percentage is also likely to be low. Chief reason for stoppings often rest five to six times higher than the first-drawn milk.

If the milking time is later than usual, you will get more milk but it will be of lower test.

A higher test can be the result of low temperature, short intervals between milking and violent exercise such as being chased by a dog which also reduces the amount of milk.

Higher tests also are common when cows are in good physical condition, and milking and management, changes in feed, sickness and being in heat are a few of these factors. Test of a nervous cow can be affected by anything unusual. To her, the presence of the taster in the barn once a month, or the presence of any stranger can be something unusual.

Although there are exceptions, feed does not materially effect the fat test. Among the exceptions would be the feeding of large doses of cod liver oil which would lower the test. Feeds used in grain mixtures to boost fat content have, generally speaking, little effect on butterfat content.

SANDWICH IDEAS

For lunchboxes or picnics these sandwich fillings are a real taste treat. Get extra variety by using different kinds of bread or rolls.

CORNEB BEEF AND CHEESE

1/4 cup sharp Canadian cheese, cut into tiny slivers.
1 tsp. mayonnaise
4 ounces canned corned beef, shredded finely.
1/4 cup sweet-corn pickles, chopped.
1 tsp. ground onion
2 tps. minced celery or parsley (optional)

Salt and pepper
Curry powder, mustard, or Worcestershire sauce.
Cream the cheese with mayonnaise and add remaining ingredients. Spread between slices of bread. The sandwiches may be served with sliced tomatoes and lettuce between the layers.

CIRCLE BEEF

2 cups ground cooked meat
1 small green pepper, chopped fine
1 tsp. onion, chopped fine
2 tps. prepared mustard
1/4 cup chili sauce
Salt and pepper to taste.
Spread on slices of bread. A leaf of lettuce should go along. Fill ing for 6.

EGG & VEGETABLE SALAD

6 - hard-cooked eggs, diced
1/4 cup chopped pimiento
2 cups diced cucumbers
2 cups diced celery
2 tps. chopped onion
1/2 cup, salt
1/2 cup salad dressing

CHICKEN SUPREME

1/2 cup chicken, chopped
2 olives, chopped
1 tps. chopped onion
1/4 green pepper, chopped
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
1 1/2 tps. chili sauce
1 tps. mayonnaise
Salt

Mix well and use as filling for plain or toasted sandwiches.

Letter To the Editor:-

Dear Mr. Playford:

On our recent visit to Drayton Valley and the Canadian Boating Championships, it was a real pleasure to read such terrific coverage of this event. This certainly is not a general practice of publication.

If it is possible, I would like to get a couple of copies of your paper with the fight results. I did read a copy of this, that was sent to the National Boxing Chairman, Major Paul Roth.

Your Recreation Director Mike Gormley does a fine job in handling his duties and is quite a writer.

With fond memories of our short and enjoyable visit to Drayton Valley and a big thank you to all.

Yours sincerely,
Bert Lovers

"Two men were commenting on a friend's bad luck at the horse races. 'Funny,' said one, 'how lucky Harry is at cards and how unlucky at the track.'
"Nothing funny about it," replied the other. 'They won't let him shuffle the horses.'

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE

"They have found the living water and they say 'Come I and let him that thirsts come and whosoever will, let him come and take of the water of life freely.'"

A nice new water tower without any water in it is the picture that many of us present to the world. We stand before the world proud of our external appearance and yet completely unaware unless we are filled with the power of the Holy Spirit. The Christian has found in Jesus Christ the source of living water having refreshed himself he calls "Come I" and this message reverberates from person to person around the world.

Let us hope that our town water shortage will soon be a thing of the past and that steps will be taken to increase the supply. What of your spiritual reservoir? Will you refresh yourself daily in the living water or will you continue to pose as an empty water tower? Lives that are not nourished by the living water of the Holy Spirit dry up and die in the same way as a lawn that is not watered withers and dies. Lives that are freely watered with the living water are like grass that grows rich and beautiful and are a joy to behold.

be ordained and installed at the evening service on July 8th. A vacation will follow the service.

Mary Sohamen and Elinor Metzger will clean the church during the month of July. Dorcas Liska will be hospital visitor.

We welcomed three guests, namely Mrs. Hagman, Mrs. Muriel Smith and Mrs. Anna Marie Nickel.

Following the meeting a delicious lunch was served by hostess, Ella Holman who will soon be moving to live in Edmonton.

Sunday School will be discontinued during the months of July and August and will begin again the first Sunday in September.

Vacation Bible School is again being planned for this summer. It will begin July 31st - Aug. 11th.

LOOKING AT RECREATION

Girl's Dream "with it, darts, in fact, and its flowers were possibly the most colorful display of the night. The Seattle girls counterpart "The Doll's Dance" was very entertaining, featuring an outstanding display of gymnastic art. Another interesting number was the routine gym work in which Mrs. Leewenburgh put the girls through a regular drill. The feature of this particular phase of the program was the high jumping duel between the Lindes, Rosenberger and Mc-

Monie with the latest edging her some salsa with a 4" hop which is pretty nifty hopping for girls of this age group especially under such restricted conditions.

All in all it was a grand show and Mrs. Leewenburgh is to be congratulated on a truly outstanding work with the girls. The "Keep Fit" Club has not only filled a big gap in the community's recreation program, but under keen and enthusiastic direction it has developed into one of the better organized and most popular organizations with the entire recreation setup in this town. The girls are closing down their gym operations for the summer months, however, one and all look enthusiastically forward to a bigger and better "Keep Fit" program come September.

VALLEY SPORT SHOTS

The D.V. Legion will be sponsoring an Intermediate Baseball Tournament on July 7th and 8th. The two days will likely be running the lines of an all-around sports event. Besides baseball there will be such entertainment as a homebody tourney and perhaps a circus similar to that sponsored by the Lions last month - All in all it promises to furnish excitement for every member of the family. Speaking of Sports Days next Friday, June 23, is the date set aside for the elementary school track and field events, under the direction of Mr. & Mrs. Gray. The youngsters will be gunning for the high marks.

TOAST MISTRESS MEETING

The Pembina Toastmistress club met on June 13th at the home of Mrs. Shirley Tolchard for a barbecue supper followed by the regular business meeting and speeches. A new slate of officers was elected for the fall term. President Mrs. Doris Kerr, Vice president - Mrs. Frieda Wiegand, Secretary - Mrs. Ruth MacKinnon, Treasurer - Mrs. Kathy Willis Club representative - Mrs. Isabel McKay.

Recently the Pembina Toastmistress Club helped Mrs. Dennis Belling entertain the wives of the Alberta Municipal Police while their husbands attended a convention held in the Town Hall. An excellent fashion show was given with Mrs. Shirley Tolchard as the fashion commentator. The models were Mrs. Dorothy Worthington, Mrs. Molly McDonald, Mrs. Jane Shoultens, Mrs. Molly Whelan, Mrs. Vickie Zoch, Mrs. Kay McLand, Mrs. Delfina Aty and Mrs. Joan Machan. Ann's fashion shop supplied all the clothes.

After the fashion show Mrs. Joan Cumfey gave a talk on the history of Drayton Valley and then showed some slides of Drayton Valley and surrounding area.

The Pembina Toastmistress Club will be holding their end of the year banquet on June 27th in the Drayton Valley Hotel.

Fashions

Looking ahead to garden, terrace or patio evenings in this pretty costume that comes in a variety of gay colors. The bodice is actually part of a little shrub in brilliant butterfly printed cotton. This version has a background of shocking pink. Over the sheath is an ankle-length skirt with a string tie at the waist and low-placed pockets. The skirt is of yellow denim.

In making requests for help. This might well be the result of political reasoning more than because individuals do not wish more to be done in regard to this serious situation.

Before I conclude, Mr. Chairman I should like again to make the suggestion I made to the minister shortly after his appointment. The forestry laboratories located at Kamloops should be moved to the centre of the forest industry in Alberta, which I suggest is the Hinton-Edson area. I make this suggestion to be an agent because I feel that the centre of the timber industry in Alberta, being in that area, would lend itself to closer cooperation between the department's research facilities and the commercial operators so that the gap which it is felt has developed, between the research done by the department and the research it is felt should be done, might be lessened or perhaps eliminated.

I feel that the amount of money which the federal government is paying on a shared basis with the provinces, particularly in regard to forest inventories, reforestation and forest protection, should be considered seriously with a view to making sure that the provinces not only accept their rights but accept their responsibilities.

General Motors of Canada makes purchases from suppliers in 48 Canadian communities. Among these purchases are diamond (the boring-tool) and ball-bearing (the grinding) for the steel industry.

It takes as many as 12,000 individual parts to build a passenger car, according to statistics at General Motors of Canada at Oshawa.

FOR ENGINE PROTECTION

Depend on it! Royalite motor oils protect your car engine all year round. They safeguard sensitive moving parts. Boost power. Save gasoline. And there's a Royalite motor oil that's just right for the car or truck you own. Drive up soon and we'll be glad to help you choose.

IN THE CITY

Wherever motorists drive in western Canada, the colorful turquoise and orange "R" beckons them to Royalite service stations. Here they find fast, courteous, efficient service - and petroleum products second to none. That's what turns casual callers into regular customers. You, for instance.

ON THE FARM

Western farmers depend on Royalite for regular deliveries of quality fuels and lubricants. And when the work load is heaviest they know they'll get special attention. You will, too. Just phone your Royalite agent. He's a good man to know.

IN INDUSTRY

Across the four western provinces Royalite bulk plants serve the needs of industry. Royalite is engaged in exploration, production, refining and marketing. It's the largest independent oil company in western Canada. Good when you buy Royalite products.

Oil Wives' Police Report

Garlands of pink blossoms and Chinese lanterns decorated the City Hall on Friday evening when the Oil Wives' held their annual dinner-dance.

A buffet supper of Chinese food was served to 125, including members, their husbands and guests.

Music was provided by the Diamonds.

The dance was convened by Mrs. S. McDonald and Mrs. G. Bowerman made dinner arrangements. Mrs. H. Zucht was in charge of reservations.

"Jack rabbit" starts or abnormal acceleration at any speed are extremely wasteful of gasoline. General Motors engineers point out. Past steps waste the energy built up in the gasoline already burned in the engine.

Police Report

For causing a disturbance in a public place one drew a fine of $10.00. Driving while license was under suspension drew a fine of $25.00 and another case of impaired driving drew a fine of $75.00 with automatic six-month license suspension.

For sealing a transistor radio two youths were placed on probation for a year each.

Causing disturbance in a public place drew fines of $10.00 each for three.

Under the V.H.T. Act a "no muffler" charge brought a fine of $2.00.

Another case of driving while license was under suspension was remanded for a week.

The 7,000th Albertan to be trained under the Province's apprenticeship training program is a twenty-one year old Innisfail resident, Benjamin A. Giles. He recently completed a four-year apprenticeship term as a Motor Mechanic.

Alberta's apprenticeship program was organized in 1944 and the registering of apprentices in nine designated trades commenced the following year. Since that time 7,000 persons have acquired trade training, and at the present time nearly 4,900 apprentices are indentured in a total of 51 trades.

Announcement of the name of Alberta's 7,000th apprentice coincides with the observance in Alberta of Commonwealth Technical Training Week, May 29-June 4. Originally proposed by His Royal Highness, The Duke of Edinburgh, the Week is designed to focus attention on the importance of technical vocational training and education in the world today, and to encourage young people for careers wide expanding opportunities.

During the week, service clubs in several Alberta communities held their recently completed apprenticeship training. Guest speakers used "Train up Today for Tomorrow" as their address theme in an effort to create more public awareness of the importance of technical education at training.

James P. White, Chairman of the Apprenticeship Board, presented Alberta's 7,000th apprentice with his Certificate of Completion of Apprenticeship and Certificate of Proficiency. The Hon. R. Falconer, Minister of Labour, was the guest speaker at the special banquet tendered by the Innisfail Chamber of Commerce honoring this achievement in apprenticeship training.

GIRLS GYM CLUB

A very fine crowd, many of them proud parents, turned out to watch the Girls Gym Club, Junior and Senior groups of the Koop Pk. classes held their final program for this season in Frank Maddock High School auditorium.

Mrs Leisenberg has done a wonderful job with the girls and the performance they put on was really very worthwhile. Following the performance Mayor A. Melers made a presentation of flowers to Mrs Leisenberg on behalf of the parents.

Here a group of the Senior girls are seen doing backbends, a little exercise that not many of us would care to attempt.

on the horse.

Recently opened across the fine new restaurant, Gloria's Coffee Shop in the brand new and very attractively built Canadian Coachways bus depot. This building is a real asset to the town, not only in the way of services for freight and bus passengers, but also as far as a very fine looking place of business on a formerly unsightly corner is concerned. As soon as parking is completed for the bus entrance at the side of the depot the bus depot will have an official opening at which time more will be said about the fine services.

Gloria's Coffee Shop had their semi-official opening last Monday, giving away free coffee and doughnuts before noon. When the bus depot has its official opening more will be said of the fine restaurant in the bus depot also.

The new howling alley is coming along in good shape and will be ready when the howling season opens. The office building, which will be the new office for Buchholz Construction, is almost ready for occupancy. Other changes that have recently taken place is that the Koehler Plumbing has moved into the office under the Drayton Valley Bakery, United Electric have moved into their own building, and Tom Johnson has taken over the former bus depot building.

THE Editor's Viewpoint

The recent plebiscite that was held, which authorized the buying by the Town of Drayton Valley of the 32 acres of land for recreational purposes at the western edge of town should be of value in more than one way. Not only will it provide an excellent recreation place, complete with some picnic grounds, and provision for many types of outdoor sport and recreation, but it will undoubtedly also necessitate the building of sidewalks on either one side of the other 60th Avenue to reach the grounds.

A sidewalk west to the highway has long been needed. There is not necessarily a lot of foot traffic from that area, but there is a certain amount of it, particularly during school days and it has so far been quite providential that no one has been injured walking down the street coming into town.

Because of soil and terrain conditions the street itself is worse than any other within the limits of the townsite, and in order to improve it materially a major street building program, a "white" project, would be necessary. This will probably be undertaken by the town, perhaps with the aid of a provincial grant at some time in the future, but for the present time the street constitutes a major pedestrian traffic hazard. Unless and until sidewalks are put in west to the highway there is no place to walk but right down the middle of the street.

When the recreational ground is put into operation there will be many children going back and forth to the grounds and the foot traffic will be increased greatly, with subsequent danger of accidents if a sidewalk is not provided for pedestrian traffic.

The Town of Drayton Valley has been faced with an unexpected and rather embarrassing situation in the shortage of water recently. Apparently water table levels are falling rapidly in this whole area. Perhaps the huge water injection program carried on by the oil companies has had something to do with it, perhaps it comes from other causes. It certainly cannot be from lack for we have had above average rainfall each year for the past several years, until this year, and may yet turn up with an average or above average rainfall for this summer, even though it is late in getting around.

Present plans under consideration by the Town call for the drilling of another well, which will probably be located on the north side of town, with about half a mile of pipe line necessary to bring the water to the reservoir.

Some have advocated the bringing in of water from the Saskatchewan River, but this would be a very costly process, both in pumping and piping it to its destination and purifying after it is brought in. This process may be necessary in the future, but for the meantime everyone is asked to cooperate in using no more water than is absolutely necessary, and particularly in watering lawns and gardens in making sure that the watering is done at time when it will be most effective. These times have been designated by the Town and property owners have been advised of the best and most effective time to do watering.

A little old lady entered a department store. Instantly a hand began to play in her skirt was pinned on her dress, a $100 bill put in her hand. She found herself being photographed from all sides and TV cameras beamed down on her.

"You're our one-million customer," the master of ceremonies for the event told her, smiling broadly. "And now can you tell us what you came here for today?" "Yes," said the little old lady, "I'm on my way to the complaint department."

A Texas rancher that a man dead and telegraphed a Houston lawyer, offering a $10,000 fee to represent him. "Leaving for your town at once," came the reply. "Bringing their eyes."

RCMP CHARGE TWO LAND SALES

Charged by local R.C.M.P. officers with supplying liquor to minors two men were convicted in court recently and were sentenced to three months in Fort Saskatchewan jail without option of fine.

The charge against the two resulted from an investigation by the officers into a fight between minors in which one boy was left unconscious by the side of the road, where he was found and taken to hospital, where he remained unconscious for several hours. The boys involved in the fight ranged in ages from 15 to 18 years. Testimony showed they had been supplied with four 28 oz. bottles of wine and four cases of beer. None of the boys involved were attending school. The minors involved were also charged with obtaining liquor while under age and were given fines of from $10. to $30. One youth was to remain in custody until he reaches the age of 16.

In court also a driver with a suspended license was fined and given ten days in jail for driving while his license was under suspension. Another driver whose license was suspended was fined $100. for driving a vehicle. Another was fined for making a false statement to the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

TRACK RECORD

Twelve year old Delphine Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, who live on a farm south of Drayton Valley, made an outstanding mark in track at the Home and School sponsored Track Meet held at the Elementary School last Friday.

Delphine made the 85 yard dash in the astounding time of 7.1 seconds, to far outclass her nearest rival and to establish a record for Drayton Valley schools which may stand for a long time. It is from material such as this that national and Olympic championships are made. Doesn't Delphine look the picture of perfect health?

SERVICE RIG BURNS

A Kimer Well Service rig blew up on a site one mile north of the Texaco gas plant, at Cynthis last Friday and was completely demolished by flames. Cause of the fire has not yet been determined, according to owner Mel Baxter, Operator "Bish" Taylor was quite badly burned from the blast on up in the fire and was rushed to hospital in Edmonton when it was found that his condition was not quite as bad as at first thought, and reports indicate that he is making a very satisfactory recovery.

PLANT AT BUCK LAKE

MacCalden Construction has the contract on the building and concrete work for a million and half dollar gas absorption plant in the Buck Lake area. General contractors on the plant are Black, Sivells and Bryson. The plant will be operated by Canadian Delphi.
